2015 TEXAS TECH FOOTBALL MEDIA SUPPLEMENT

Texas Tech University Athletics Communications

Sixth Edition, Summer 2015

IN REMEMBRANCE...

On June 25, 2015, Texas Tech Athletics lost a mother, a mentor, a role model and most importantly, a friend.

In this era of ultra-competitive college athletics, it's rare for one employee to fill all those roles. Jennie Bailey, or "Ms. Bailey" as football student-athletes over the past two decades have referred to her, did exactly that.

Bailey, the longtime football administrative assistant who spent over 28 years with the program, passed away June 25 after a battle with cancer. She was 54.

"Jennie Bailey has meant so much to so many people during her years at Texas Tech," Tech head football coach Kliff Kingsbury said. "She was a mentor, a friend and a mother figure to everyone who was a part of our program. She will be dearly missed, always loved and never forgotten."

During her tenure at Texas Tech, Bailey handled many of the behind-the-scenes aspects of the football program, assisting with recruiting letters and setting up prospective student-athlete visits to campus while also helping the coaching staff prepare scouting reports and daily practice plans.

It may be the role of "Momma Bailey" that she is best remembered, however.

Few student-athletes passed through the offices of the Football Training Facility without stopping by to see Ms. Bailey. She had a white board of autographs ranging from Zach Thomas and Rodney Blackshear, to Wes Welker and most recently Davis Webb.

While there, the topic of football rarely came up.

Instead, Ms. Bailey was more worried about how life was -- how were his parents, what had he done for fun or even about his social life. She often told the parents of prospective student-athletes that she would care and watch over their son while he attended Texas Tech.

Hence, the nickname "Momma Bailey."

"Jennie was mainly a mother away from home for us," said former Red Raider great John Norman (1997-2000). "She was always there for us, someone we could talk to. Our talks were not always about football, but about life in general. Ms. Bailey was basically the mother away from home for us players. Even after we left Texas Tech, she was still our mother away from home. She's in a better place now. She left a great impact."

"She will be missed. That's for sure. The loss is ours and the gain is that Heaven now has a new caretaker up there."

- Former head coach Spike Dykes

As great as a "mother" she was to Texas Tech football student-athletes, she was just as great at raising her own child, Geoff, with her husband Randy.

Randy and Geoff have been along her side throughout her career at Texas Tech, joining her on the practice field and at games -- both home and away. Ms. Bailey always described the football program and those involved in it as part of her family.

"It's sad to think that the next generation of Red Raiders won't have a second mom like Jennie Bailey to not only be there for them but to have her treat you as if she was your own mother," Webb said. "She has impacted so many coaches, players and myself. She will always have a place in the facility and especially in myself and my teammates' hearts. She will be forever missed."

Even when cancer struck in 2011, Bailey was a constant presence at Texas Tech practices and games. She would attend chemo and doctors' appointments in either Dallas or Lubbock and make it back in time to catch parts of an afternoon practice or see the team off before a road trip.

Cancer never ruined her spirit.

She shaved a Double T into her head as she underwent chemo treatments. She posed for her media guide headshot wearing a Texas Tech jersey with a big smile and two guns up.

She said she was going to beat cancer. Ultimately, with the way she lived her final few years, she did.

Ms. Bailey leaves behind thousands of football student-athletes, coaches and athletic department staff who will miss her spirit, her compassion and her kindness.

As former head coach Spike Dykes eloquently put it, "she will never be forgotten."

"Jennie Bailey is the epitome of what loyalty is all about," Dykes said. "She went to work at Texas Tech and loved everything about it every day. She was the surrogate mother to all the kids who played for us who didn't have parents close enough to be there. Believe me, the older those guys got, the more they appreciated it. She loved her job because of the young people she got to work with every day. Those types of people are very rare.

"She will be missed. That's for sure. The loss is ours and the gain is that Heaven now has a new caretaker up there."

HISTORY OF TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY

Texas Tech University was created by legislative action in 1923 and has the distinction of being the largest comprehensive higher education institution in the western two-thirds of the state of Texas. The university is the major institution of higher education in a region larger than 46 of the nation's 50 states and is the only campus in Texas that is home to a major university, law school and medical school.

Originally named Texas Technological College, the college opened in 1925 with six buildings and an enrollment of 914. Graduate instruction did not begin until 1927 within the school of Liberal Arts. A "Division of Graduate Studies" was established in 1935 and eventually became known as the Graduate School in 1954.

By action of the Texas State Legislature, Texas Technological College formally became Texas Tech University on September 1, 1969. At that time the schools of Agricultural Sciences, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education, Engineering and Home Economics also became known as "colleges." Architecture became a college in 1986. Two colleges changed their names in 1993 to reflect the broadening fields each serves: the College of Agricultural Sciences became the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources and the College of Home Economics became the College of Human Sciences. The Honors College was established in 1998, and the College of Visual and Performing Arts opened in 2002. Mass Communications became a college in 2004 and became the College of Media & Communication in 2013.

The Texas State Legislature authorized funds in 1965 for establishing the Texas Tech University School of Law, and the Law School's first dean was appointed in 1966. The first class of 72 students enrolled in 1967. The Law School was approved by the American Bar Association in 1970 and is fully accredited by the Supreme Court of Texas (1968) and the Association of American Law Schools (1969).

As a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, Texas Tech began competing in the Big 12 Conference in 1996 after a 35-year membership in the former Southwest Conference.

TEXAS TECH TRADITIONS

ARBOR DAY
When Texas Tech first started, most of the funds went towards the buildings, but the campus was lacking its landscape. Then, in 1937, President Bradford Knapp decided to dedicate one day every spring to beautify the campus. On the first day of this now annual tradition, 20,000 trees were planted. This Tech tradition still goes on today as student and teachers plant trees and beautify the campus on Arbor Day.

BANGIN' BERTHA (SADDLE TRAMP BELL)
Saddle Tramps carry Bangin Bertha, a bell on a trailer, to all home football games and homecoming events. Bertha was designed in 1959 by Saddle Tramp Joe Winegar, and was donated by the Santa Fe Railroad. Bangin' Bertha is considered a spirit-raiser and a big tradition at Texas Tech.

BLARNEY STONE
On St. Patrick's Day in 1939, Texas Tech University unveiled that they had discovered a piece of the Blarney Stone. According to the legend the stone was discovered by a group of petroleum engineers while they were on a field trip. After doing tests it was discovered that the stone was a piece of the original Blarney Stone. The stone now lies on a stand in front of the old Electrical Engineering Building. It is said that seniors that kiss the Blarney Stone upon graduation will receive the gift of eloquent speech.

CARILLON
In 1973, Ruth Baird Larabee made a donation to Texas Tech University to buy and install a carillon in memory of her parents. The Charles and Ruth Baird Memorial Carillon is located in the west tower of the administration building at the center of the Texas Tech campus. The beautiful music of the 36-bell instrument ring out over the campus during times of celebration and solemnity. Students, faculty, and staff, as well as visitors to the university, have enjoyed the music for 30 years. The carillon became one of Texas Tech's treasured traditions.

The carillon was refurbished and extended in 2005, adding additional bells to make 3 ½ octaves. The bourdon (the largest bell) weighs approximately 800 pounds, and the smallest, only about eight pounds. Twelve of the bells were cast by Whitechapel Bell Foundry in England, 24 were cast by the Paccard Foundry in France, and the newest bells, by Meek & Watson Foundry in Ohio. The estimated value of this collection of bells today is $250,000.

According to The Guild of Carillonneurs in North America, "A carillon is a musical instrument composed of at least 23 bells, arranged in chromatic sequence, so tuned as to produce concordant harmony when many bells are sounded together. It is played from a keyboard that allows expression through variation of touch."

Every year since its inception, the Carol of Lights has featured carillon music. Additionally, each year on the Fourth of July at 1:00 p.m., the carillon is played in conjunction with the ceremonial ringing of the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia. Summer Sunday evening concerts are another Tech tradition.

CAROL OF LIGHTS
To celebrate the holiday season, Texas Tech holds an annual event called the Carol of Lights. The event starts off with the Texas Tech University Combined Choirs performing selections of classic holiday songs at the Science Quadrangle. When the lighting ceremony commences, Students, as well as those who came for the show, stand in awe as over 25,000 red, white, and orange lights illuminate the 13 buildings surrounding memorial circle.

This tradition started in 1959 when Harold Hinn came up with the idea and provided the funds to cover the science quadrangle and the administration building with lights. Unfortunately students were away on Christmas break and did not see the display. The following year, the Residence Hall Association created the Christmas Sing, which is now known as the Carol of Lights. Today, the Carol of Lights is one of Texas Tech's favorite traditions.

DOUBLE T BENCH
Located in the courtyard behind the Administration Building, this special bench was given by the seniors of the class of 1931. It was an announced tradition that no freshmen were allowed to sit on it.

DOUBLE T SADDLE MONUMENT
Before the football team runs onto the field, they touch the sculpture of a saddle. The saddle was dedicated by the Saddle Tramps to Double T, one of the many Masked Rider Horses that served proudly over the years.

DOUBLE T
There is no other symbol more recognized with Texas Tech than the Double T symbol. Though no one has yet stepped forward to claim credit for its design, historical evidence points to Texas Tech's first football coach E.Y. Freeland, who put the Double T logo on sweaters for the football players.

FIGHT SONG (FIGHT! RAIDERS! FIGHT!)
Fight, Raiders, Fight! Fight, Raiders, Fight!
Fight for the school we love so dearly.
You'll hit 'em high, you'll hit 'em low.
You'll push the ball across the goal,
Tech, Fight! Fight!

We'll praise your name, boost you to fame.
Fight for the Scarlet and Black.
You will hit 'em, you will wreck 'em.
Hit 'em! Wreck 'em, Texas Tech!
And the Victory Bells will ring out!

GOIN' BAND FROM RAIDERLAND
The Goin' Band from Raiderland is one of the largest spirit raisers on campus and among the finest bands in the country. The original band in 1925, numbering only 21 members, was dressed in matador uniforms. In recent years, the band's 400 members have returned to variations on that original look. The Goin' Band performs at home and away football games, parades and at other special events. Following home games, devoted fans stick around to join the band in their traditional march out of Jones AT&T Stadium, through the engineering key, around the circle, by the Administration Building and ending at the band parking lot behind the Music Building. The band was the 1998 recipient of the prestigious Sudler Trophy as the nation's top marching band.

GUNS UP
The "Guns Up" sign is the widely recognized greeting of one Red Raider to another. It is also the sign of victory displayed by the crowd at every athletic event. The sign is made by extending the index finger outward while extending the thumb upward and tucking in the middle, little and fourth fingers to form a gun.

The sign can be traced back to L. Glenn Dippel, a 1961 alumnus of Texas Tech. He and his wife Roxie were living in Austin and faced the daily presence of the "Hook 'em Horns" hand sign used by University of Texas fans. So, the Dippels decided to retaliate. They looked to mascot Raider Red and his raised guns for their inspiration and in 1971 developed the Guns Up hand symbol. The Saddle Tramps and Texas Tech cheerleaders immediately adopted Guns Up and a new tradition was born.

HOMECOMING
Homecoming is an exciting week full of activities for Texas Tech students. Such activities include a bonfire, parade, float competitions, open houses, award programs, and of course the homecoming football game. Another favorite event, which has been around since 1954, is the election of the homecoming queen.

MASKED RIDER
The Masked Rider is the oldest and most popular mascot of Texas Tech University that still exists today. Originally the Masked Rider started as a dare in 1936 and was then called the ghost rider, because no one knew the rider's identity. These ghost riders circled the field at home football games and then disappeared.

The Masked Rider did not become an official mascot until 1954, when Joe Kirk Fulton led the team out onto the field at the Gator Bowl. Fulton, wearing Levi's, red shirt, a black cape and mounted on a black horse, awed the crowd as the team made one of the most sensational entrances ever.

TEXAS TECH TRADITIONS

MATADOR SONG (ALMA MATER)
Fight, Matadors, for Tech!
Songs of love we'll sing to thee,
Bear our banners far and wide.
Ever to be our pride,
Fearless champions ever be.
Stand on heights of victory.
Strive for honor evermore.
Long live the Matadors!
----Music by Harry Lemaire, words by R.C. Marshall

RAIDERGATE
RaiderGate is Texas Tech's official Student Tailgating section. Close to 10,000 Texas Tech students will attend the largest party on campus. Come out to RaiderGate, have fun, listen to some live bands, and Get Fired up for YOUR Texas Tech Red Raiders. RaiderGate is held four hours prior to each Home Football game and is brought to you by YOUR Student Government Association.

RAIDER RED
Prior to the 1971 season, the Southwest Conference passed a rule that prevented members of the conference from taking live animals to non-home games unless the host team had no objections. So Jim Gaspard, a member of the Saddle Tramps, created Raider Red from a drawing by the late Lubbock cartoonist Dirk West as an alternative to the Masked Rider. Raider Red's student persona is kept a secret from the Tech community. Red is a public relations mascot who shakes hands with the crowds at athletic events and poses for pictures. He changes from boots to high-top court shoes for basketball games. Raider Red fires his two 12-gauge shotguns using powder-filled shells after every Tech touchdown and field goal.

TTAA CLASS RING AND CEREMONY
Since 1999, The Official Texas Tech Alumni Association Class Ring has been the universal symbol of academic achievement at Texas Tech. The single ring is a tradition that was brought back from the 1950s that encompasses the Double T, Masked Rider, Administration Bell Tower, and the Texas Tech seal. Cast inside each ring is "Strive For Honor," taken from "The Matador Song." Rings are presented by the University president at the Official Ring Ceremony in the Merket Alumni Center.

SADDLE TRAMPS
Formed by Tech student Arch Lamb in 1936, this all-male booster organization supports men's athletics at Texas Tech. The name Saddle Tramp came from the stories of traveling men who would come to a farm for a brief time, fix up some things and move on. Lamb said he decided that he could fix up some things himself before moving on, and the Saddle Tramps were born. Since that time the Saddle Tramps believe if something was for the betterment of Texas Tech then they would work at it.

These Midnight Raiders "paint the campus red" with crepe paper before big home games, form the legendary "Bell Circle" moments before kickoff, ring Bangin' Bertha, participate in parades and other campus events (including the Carol of Lights), and ring the Victory Bells after Red Raider victories.

TEXAS TECH SEAL
Designed by the campus' master planner, William Ward Watkin, in 1924, the Tech Seal's symbols are the lamp, which represents "school," the key for "home," the book for "church," and the star for "state." Cotton bolls represent the area's strong cotton industry and the eagle is suggestive of our country. The seal first appeared on Tech diplomas in 1948, but it wasn't officially approved as "The" Seal of Texas Tech University until 1953. On April 27, 1972, the seal was placed at the Broadway and University entrance to the campus in what became known as the Amon G. Carter Plaza. It is made of red granite and stands 12 feet high. It has been referred to by students through the years as "the Oreo."

VICTORY BELLS
In 1936 victory bells were given to Texas Tech as a class gift. The bells rang for the first time at the 1936 class's graduation. It is said that after the win over TCU, the following year, the bells rang throughout the night. The bells kept Lubbock residents up all night. Thereafter, the bell ringing was limited to 30 minutes. Saddle Tramps ring the bells after Texas Tech victories and during special occasions. The Victory Bells - one large and one small, which combine to weigh 1,200 pounds - hang in the east tower of the Administration Building.

WILL ROGERS AND SOAPSUDS
One of the most well known landmarks on campus is the statue of Will Rogers and his horse Soapsuds. This memorial was dedicated on February 16, 1950 by longtime friend of Rogers, Amon G. Carter. Carter believed Texas Tech was the perfect setting for the statue and that it would fit into the traditions and scenery of West Texas.

The statue stands at 9'11" tall and weighs 3,200 pounds; its estimated cost was $25,000. On the base of the statue, the inscription reads "Lovable Old Will Rogers on his favorite horse, 'Soapsuds,' riding into the Western sunset."

Today Texas Tech tradition and legends surrounds the statue. According to one legend, the plan to face Will Rogers so that he could be riding off into the sunset did not work out as it would cause Soapsuds' rear to be facing downtown. To solve this problem, the horse and Will was turned 23 degrees to the east so the horse's posterior was facing in the direction of Texas A&M, one of the school's rivals.

Before every home football game the Saddle Tramps wrap Old Will with red crepe paper. Will Rogers and Soapsuds have also been wrapped up in black crepe paper to mourn national tragedies.

ADMINISTRATION

ROBERT DUNCAN
Chancellor

Robert L. Duncan became the fourth chancellor of the Texas Tech University System on July 7, 2014.

As chancellor, Duncan is the chief executive officer of all campuses and academic sites of the Texas Tech University System's four component institutions—Texas Tech University, Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center, Angelo State University and Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center at El Paso. He is focused on providing each university with the resources needed to ensure the academic achievement of all students enrolled in the system institutions. As part of his leadership, the chancellor also works in both Austin and Washington, D.C. to increase funding for all system institutions.

Before becoming chancellor, Duncan served in the Texas Legislature for more than two decades. He was elected to District 84 in the Texas House of Representatives in 1992. In 1996, he won a special election to the Texas Senate, where he served until resigning to become chancellor.

While representing District 28 as State Senator, Duncan crafted major legislation impacting Texans and served on three of the Senate's most powerful committees—Finance, State Affairs and Budget Conference. He served as president pro tempore of the Texas Senate during the 81st Legislative Session and served as a member of the Senate Committee on Higher Education, the Education Committee and the Natural Resources Committee. He was widely recognized as a leader in the Texas Legislature. Texas Monthly magazine named Duncan to its 'Ten Best List' more times than any other member of the legislature.

Duncan also was a law partner at Crenshaw, Dupree and Milam in Lubbock for more than 25 years. He advised clients in insurance law and commercial litigation, among many others areas of his legal practice, and remains 'of counsel' for the law firm.

Duncan is a lifelong West Texan. He was raised in Vernon, Texas. He is the only son of five children born to Frank L. Duncan and Robena Formby Duncan. Duncan and his family have a rich heritage with Texas Tech University. His uncle, Marshall Formby, and cousin, Clint Formby, both served on the Texas Tech Board of Regents.

Duncan received his bachelor's degree in agricultural economics from Texas Tech University in 1976. While completing his undergraduate degree, he served as the student body president. Duncan received his doctorate of jurisprudence from the Texas Tech University School of Law in 1981.

Duncan has two children. His daughter, Lindsey Pike, is a public school teacher and counselor, and is married to Wes Pike. His son, Matthew Duncan, is a food distribution sales representative. Chancellor Duncan is married to Terri Duncan. Mrs. Duncan also has two children, Justin Patterson, an IT specialist, and Clayton Patterson, an auto-financing assistant. All the children are Texas Tech University graduates.

M. DUANE NELLIS, PH.D
President

M. Duane Nellis was named as the 16th president of Texas Tech University on March 22, 2013. He began his term in June 2013.

Nellis came to Texas Tech from the University of Idaho, where he served as president from July 2009-13. There, he was instrumental in producing record student enrollments, gaining national recognition of the university research mission with dramatic funding increases, and extending university programs to benefit the people of the state both educationally and economically. Independent studies now show the university boosts Idaho's economy by more than $1 billion each year, due in part to Nellis' Vision 2020 goals that seek to provide a sustainable economic base for the school by 2020.

Nellis also led a major capital campaign at the University of Idaho, "Inspiring Futures", which provided for over $80 million in campus facility improvements, created the President's Diversity Council, enhanced what became a nationally award-winning engagement effort through creation of the Office for Community Partnerships, improved major inter-disciplinary initiatives, and significantly improved business partnerships between the University of Idaho and business and commodity groups throughout the Northwest.

As the chief executive officer of Idaho's nationally recognized research and land-grant university, he was responsible for nearly 14,000 employees and students as well as a budget in excess of $453 million. That responsibility extended to 42 statewide extension offices and nearly 28 other research and educational facilities across the state including campus locations in Boise, Coeur d'Alene and Idaho Falls. This includes general education as well as programs funded separately from the University of Idaho to include the Agricultural Research and Extension Service, the Forest Utilization Research program, the Idaho Geological Survey, the Washington-Idaho Veterinary Program and the multi-state WWAMI (Washington, Wyoming, Alaska, Montana and Idaho) Medical Education program.

He is recognized both nationally and internationally for his research that utilizes satellite data and geographic information systems to analyze various dimensions of the earth's land surface. This research has been funded by more than 50 sources such as NASA, the National Geographic Society, the U.S. Agency for International Development and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. His research has led to more than 100 articles and reports in a wide range of professional journals, and 17 books and book chapters. He has given more than 100 professional presentations and has been invited to speak at more than 60 universities and related settings internationally.

Nellis is a native of the Northwest: he was born in Spokane, Wash. He met and married his wife, Ruthie, while pursuing his bachelor's degree in earth sciences/geography at Montana State University. He received his master's and doctoral degrees in geography from Oregon State University.

COACHING STAFF

HEAD COACH KLIFF KINGSBURY

KLIFF KINGSBURY
@TTUKingsbury
3rd Season
Head Coach / Quarterbacks
Texas Tech '01

COACHING ACCOMPLISHMENTS

• Kliff Kingsbury (@TTUKingsbury) begins his third season as head coach at Texas Tech. He was named the 15th head coach in program history on Dec. 12, 2012.

• In his second season as head coach, Kingsbury led a young and inexperienced squad to a 4-8 overall record. His potent offense began to develop the balance he had been seeking, as running back DeAndre Washington became the first Red Raider to rush for over 1,000 yards in a single season since Ricky Williams did so in 1998. The Red Raider offense finished the season ranked 10th (504.1 yards-per-game) nationally while the pass offense ranked fifth (351.1 yards-per-game).

• In his first season in 2013, Kingsbury led the Red Raiders to an 8-5 overall record and a stunning 37-23 win over No. 16 Arizona State in the National University Holiday Bowl. He became just the second coach in school history to win a bowl game in his first season as the Red Raiders dismantled the heavily favored Sun Devils in San Diego. His popularity also helped revitalize the Texas Tech fan base as the Red Raiders set a new school record for average home attendance (57,933 average per game).

• Kingsbury returned to his collegiate roots after a one-year stint as offensive coordinator at Texas A&M in 2012 where he played a major role in leading freshman quarterback Johnny Manziel to the Heisman Trophy. Under his guidance, the Aggie offense finished third nationally in total offense by averaging 552.33 yards per game. The Aggies ranked 14th nationally in passing offense and 13th nationally in rushing offense, making Texas A&M one of the most balanced attacks in college football. For the second consecutive year, Kingsbury was named the national offensive coordinator of the year.

• Kingsbury made the move to Texas A&M from the University of Houston where he played a key role in the Cougars' record-setting 13-win season in 2011. The Cougars finished 2011 with a 13-1 record and posted the program's highest final BCS finish in school history (No. 19).

• Kingsbury served as co-offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for the Cougars in 2011, and was named the 2011 Offensive Coordinator of the Year by FootballScoop.com. The Cougars led the nation in total offense, passing offense and scoring in 2011, while record-setting quarterback Case Keenum placed seventh in the Heisman Trophy voting and won the Sammy Baugh Award. With Kingsbury calling the offensive plays, the Cougars averaged 599.1 total yards per game, including 450.1 through the air, while scoring over 49 points per game. The Cougars scored over 70 points in two games in 2011, and finished the season with a 30-14 win over Penn State in the TicketCity Bowl. Kingsbury was instrumental in the continued development of Keenum, who finished his illustrious career as the most prolific passer in NCAA FBS history. In his one season with Kingsbury as his QB coach, Keenum completed 428-of-604 passes for 5,631 yards and 48 touchdowns, all NCAA FBS bests.

• In his first season as quarterbacks coach at Houston in 2010, Kingsbury prepped a true freshman signal caller, David Piland, to an average of 330.1 yards passing per game, which ranked No. 3 nationally. He was named to the Sporting News Freshman All-America team.

• After a five-year professional football career, Kingsbury entered the coaching ranks in the spring of 2008 when he joined Sumlin's staff as an offensive quality control assistant. A sixth-round draft pick in 2003 by the New England Patriots, Kingsbury played for five NFL teams and also saw action in the Canadian Football League and the All-American Football League.

• Kingsbury was drafted by Bill Belichick and the New England Patriots after a record-setting career at Texas Tech. Kingsbury received multiple honors including Associated Press Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year as a quarterback for the Red Raiders. In addition, he set 39 school records, 16 Big 12 marks and 17 NCAA records during his career at Tech (1999-2002). As a senior he was awarded the Sammy Baugh Trophy, presented annually to the nation's best college quarterback.

• The first in a long line of record-setting Texas Tech quarterbacks under then-head coach Mike Leach, Kingsbury recorded more than 12,000 passing yards and total offense including over 1,000 pass completions making him only the third player in NCAA history to accomplish all three. Kingsbury also excelled in the classroom as he was one of 14 collegiate football players to receive a post-graduate scholarship from the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame as he also garnered Academic All-America Player of the Year honors in 2002.

• A native of New Braunfels, Texas, Kingsbury graduated from Texas Tech in 2001 with a bachelor's degree in management.

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

DAVID GIBBS
@CoachDavidGibbs
1st Season
Defensive Coordinator / Safeties
Colorado '90

• Named defensive coordinator at Texas Tech on Jan. 5, 2014. The 22-year coaching veteran has seven years of experience as a defensive coordinator on the NCAA FBS level and nine years of NFL coaching experience.

• Member of a coaching staff that has played in a bowl game in nine of his 13 years on the collegiate level.

• Under Gibbs' leadership, the Houston defense ranked as the third-most improved scoring defense nationally and ranked 20th nationally in allowing 21.8 points per game after allowing 36 points a game in 2012.

• The 2013 Houston defense led the nation with 43 turnovers forced to help lead the Cougars to a nation's best plus-25 turnover margin. Trevon Stewart led the nation and set a UH record with six fumble recoveries while Adrian McDonald led The American Athletic Conference with six interceptions.

• The dramatic defensive overhaul under Gibbs continued in 2014 as Houston finished the regular season ranked 11th nationally in scoring defense at 19.5 points per game and 19th nationally in total defense at 334.6 yards per game. The Houston defense was fifth nationally with 30 takeaways, including 19 interceptions, a number that ranked sixth nationally. Two players (Joey Mbu and Adrian McDonald) received First Team honors from The American while two others (William Jackson and Efrem Oliphant) received Second Team honors from the league.

• Prior to Houston, Gibbs' last collegiate coaching stop was in 2005 when he served as defensive coordinator at Auburn. The Tiger defense ranked sixth nationally in scoring defense, allowing just 15.5 points per game, while ranking 11th in sacks (39) and 16th in third-down defense.

• On the professional level, Gibbs spent a combined nine seasons in Denver, Kansas City and Houston as a defensive backs coach. Teams sporting Gibbs on staff finished in the top 12 of total defense five times and advanced to the NFL Playoffs on three occasions. Three players under Gibbs earned NFL Pro Bowl selections in Champ Bailey, John Lynch and Deltha O'Neal.

• Gibbs received his NFL start in Denver where in his first year the Broncos defense ranked No. 6 in the league in interceptions and No. 9 in total defense. In 2002 the defense improved to No. 6 in total defense and No. 3 in passing touchdowns allowed. The following two years saw Denver advance to the playoffs as the Broncos ranked fourth in the NFL in total defense both years. Both years saw the squad finish sixth in passing defense and in the top 10 of scoring defense.

• In his return to the NFL in 2006, Gibbs assisted a Kansas City defense that improved in one season from 25th in total defense to 12th. In 2007, the Chiefs improved to No. 5 in the league in passing defense while ranking fourth in passing touchdowns allowed.

• The Chiefs allowed just one 300-yard passer in each of his first two seasons in Kansas City. After helping the 2008 Kansas City defense to finish ninth in turnovers forced, Gibbs moved to Houston where the Texans' pass defense improved seven spots to 10th in the league in passing defense in his first year.

• Gibbs became the youngest coordinator on the FBS level at the time as the then 29-year old took over as a defensive coordinator at Minnesota in 1997. Gibbs improved a Minnesota defense that had ranked last in the Big Ten in 1996 to one that was ranked eighth in the nation in pass efficiency defense and scoring defense by 1999.

• His defense helped lead the Golden Gophers to back-to-back bowl games in 1999 and 2000. Players from Gibbs' span at the school (1997-2000) currently own 17 individual defensive records at Minnesota while his 1997 group holds the team record with 41 sacks in a season.

• Under Gibbs' tutelage, Tyrone Carter won the 1999 Jim Thorpe Award and back-to-back All-America honors in 1998 and 1999. Defensive end Lamanzer Williams earned All-American honors in 1997 as Gibbs' defense produced an All-American in three straight seasons for the first time at Minnesota since 1961-63.

• Defensive end Karon Riley was named the Big Ten Defensive Lineman of the Year in 2000. Under Gibbs, six Minnesota defensive players earned first team All-Big Ten honors while six more earned second team honors.

• Gibbs earned his first full-time coaching position in 1995 at the University of Kansas where he coached the program's defensive backs. The Jayhawks advanced to just their eighth bowl game in program history in Gibbs' first year where they defeated UCLA in the Hawaii Bowl. Defensive back Dorian Brew earned All-Big Eight honors in Gibbs' first season at Kansas while Tony Blevins and Jason Harris each earned All-Big 12 honors under Gibbs.

• Gibbs earned his first coaching opportunity with back-to-back two-year stints as a graduate assistant at both Colorado and Oklahoma before moving on to Kansas. Oklahoma won the 1991 Gator Bowl while Colorado collected wins in the 1993 Aloha Bowl and 1994 Fiesta Bowl with Gibbs on staff.

• The Auburn, Ala., native was a four-year letterman at the University of Colorado from 1987-90 and started at defensive back for the 1990 national-title winning Colorado team and the 11-1 1989 team that finished fourth nationally in the season's final polls. • His cornerbacks had anything but a "sophomore slump" in their second year under his direction (2011) as Louisiana Tech's defense ranked third in the nation in both interceptions and pick-sixes. The highlight of those interceptions - and the kick-start to winning at Utah State - was Terry Carter's 22-yard interception return for a touchdown.

• In his first season at Louisiana Tech in 2010, the Bulldogs tallied 12 interceptions as Ryan Williams led the Tech cornerbacks with two.

• Joined the Louisiana Tech staff in 2010 after serving two years at Navarro Junior College (Corsicana, Texas) where he coached the secondary.

During Haverty's time as a defensive graduate assistant at TCU, the Horned Frogs led the nation in total defense twice (2008-09). TCU was 23-3 in Haverty's final two seasons as a graduate assistant. OFFENSIVE LINE

LEE HAYS
@LeeHays
3rd Season
Offensive Line
Texas A&M Kingsville '96

• Begins his third season as offensive line coach at Texas Tech and is in his second coaching stint alongside head coach Kliff Kingsbury.

• Joined the Texas Tech staff in the spring of 2013 after completing his second coaching stop at the University of Houston where he served as offensive line coach in 2012.

• In his second season at Texas Tech in 2014, Hays' offensive line was arguably the most improved unit on the team. His line allowed just 13 sacks in 12 games and that mark ranked second in the Big 12 and tied for 12th nationally. Le'Raven Clark was a consensus First-Team All Big 12 selection at left tackle.

• The Del Rio, Texas, native served as the assistant offensive line coach for the Houston Cougars in 2010 and enjoyed successful offensive coordinator stints at Tarleton State (2011), Baylor (2006-07) and West Texas A&M (2003-05). At each of those stops his programs annually produced some of college football's top offensive outputs, running the highly-successful "Air Raid", which is currently run by the Houston Cougars.

• It was that work with UH's young offensive linemen in 2010 that helped three first-year starters, Kevin Forsch (Honorable Mention All-C-USA), Ty Cloud and Rowdy Harper (Conference USA All-Freshman Team) make the transition to starters in 2011.

• Widely respected for his work along the offensive line, Hays has coached five All-Americans, 27 First-Team All-Conference players, three conference offensive Linemen of the Year award winners, one Dave Rimington Award winner and two NFL Draft picks. His coaching tenure has also helped produce five conference championship teams and six NCAA Division II playoff entrants.

• His background includes a near-decade stint with the United States Marine Corps' 4th Reconnaissance Battalion (1987-96). He rose to the rank of staff sergeant and completed the Marine Corps' Sniper School. He served as a staff noncommissioned officer and as a recon marine during his military career.

• Before he entered the Marines, Hays played defensive end and linebacker at Cisco Junior College for two years, then spent one year at Abilene Christian. He then returned to football and earned his bachelor's degree from Texas A&M-Kingsville in 1996 and his master's degree from West Texas A&M University in 2004.

• From 2003-05, Hays was the architect of West Texas A&M's high-octane spread offenses utilizing the Air Raid attack. West Texas A&M enjoyed its most successful season in 55 years in 2005, largely due to the success of Hays' offensive creativity. The Buffaloes went 10-2 to record their first winning season since 1998 (the program had won a combined seven games in the previous four years) and post the school's first 10-win campaign since 1950. Along the way, WTAMU won the Lone Star Conference title with an 8-1 record, its first league championship since 1986, and advanced to the NCAA Division II Playoffs for the first time in school history where it lost in the quarterfinals.

• The 2005 Buffalo offense led the NCAA Division II ranks in passing offense at 363.8 yards per game, while ranking No. 7 in scoring offense (40.3 ppg) and No. 9 in total offense (477.3 ypg). His 2005 offense set school records for completion percentage (.669) and total yards per attempt (6.9 ypa).

• Spent two years at Baylor (2006-07), with BU averaging 23.6 points per game, the team's best mark since 1996. The spread attack also allowed Baylor to break almost every school single-game and season passing record. The Bears ranked third in the Big 12 and No. 11 nationally in passing yards per game (275.0).

• Spent the 2011 season at Tarleton State where the club averaged 32.1 points and nearly 400 yards of offense per game (391.9). Tarleton was one of the most improved teams in NCAA Division II, doubling its win total from 3-8 in 2010 to 6-5 in 2011. The offensive output was also a huge benefactor of Hays' experience. Tarleton averaged just 21.5 points per game the year before his arrival.

• Hays and his wife, Roxanne, have a daughter, Shanlee, and a son, Cade.

Brinkley posted four pickoffs for 108 yards on the way to being named to the All-Conference USA Second Team. LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - Davis Webb threw for 452 yards and four touchdowns to lead Texas Tech to a 42-35 win over Central Arkansas Saturday night.

The sophomore quarterback also had two interceptions, a fifth what he threw all last season.

Webb completed 39 of 52 passes and threw TDs of 6, 5 and 70 yards. The 70-yarder early in the fourth quarter was a career high for Webb and receiver Bradley Marquez.

Central Arkansas (0-1) of the Football Championship Subdivision was ahead midway through the second quarter. Once Texas Tech led, the Bears pulled within 42-35 late in the game when backup quarterback Ryan Howard threw an 8-yard TD to Damien Watts.

Bears starting QB Taylor Reed threw for 140 yards and scored on a 1-yard run.

DeAndre Washington of Texas Tech (1-0) rushed for a career-high 104 yards on 20 carries. The team beat last season's rushing average by 66 yards.

Marquez had two touchdown catches, grabbing a 27-yarder from Webb about 7 minutes after the first.

The Red Raiders came out after halftime and put together an 11-play scoring drive. Webb found Reginald Davis over the middle on a 5-yard slant to put Texas Tech up 28-16.

Webb hit Bradley Marquez on a crossing route and he scampered along the near sideline for a 70-yard touchdown early in the fourth quarter to put the Red Raiders up 35-21.

The Bears kept plugging, scoring after each of the Red Raiders touchdowns in the fourth quarter.

Early in the week, Red Raiders coached Kliff Kingsbury said his goals for the game were to reduce penalties and turnovers. Last season the Red Raiders had 18 interceptions (113th in nation) and the team lost 15 fumbles (116th).

Webb, who had nine interceptions in 10 games last season, had two before halftime. Both picks seemed to come on plays where Webb forced the pass. Both picks led to scores for the Bears.

Texas Tech finished with 114 yards on 15 penalties; last year they averaged eight penalites and 75.2 yards per game.

Webb's first pick came on first down at the Bears 11-yard line. Webb rolled to left and tried to force the ball to Devin Lauderdale, who was being covered by Prince Ene. The ball popped up and was intercepted by Dawson Hadnot.

From there, the Bears put together a 12-play drive to go up 10-7.

Webb's second interception came when he tried to hit Jakeem Grant on the far sideline. There wasn't a lot of space to get it to Grant and the ball was picked off by Artez Williams at Texas Tech's 40. Williams returned it to the Red Raiders 2-yard line, and Willie Matthews took it in on the first play to put Central Arkansas up 16-7 early in the second half.

EL PASO, Texas (AP) - Davis Webb threw three touchdown passes to Bradley Marquez to help lift Texas Tech to a 30-26 victory over Texas-El Paso Saturday night.

UTEP (1-1) led 6-0 early in the game, but the Red Raiders (2-0) fought back for a 16-13 halftime lead.

Tech pushed its lead to 23-13 on a 13-yard scoring pass from Webb to Marquez in the third, but the Miners hung tough.

UTEP answered with a 24-yard touchdown run from Jeremiah Laufasa that cut Tech's lead to 23-19 at the end of the third quarter.

A 9-yard scoring run by Aaron Jones at 5:05 put UTEP back in front at 26-23. Jones ran for 137 yards.

The Red Raiders turned to their passing game and another hookup from Webb to Marquez. This time, the two connected on a 9-yard touchdown and Ryan Bustin's extra point put Tech ahead to stay at 30-26.

The key plays on that drive, which covered 75 yards in seven plays, were carries of 20 and 24 yards by Justin Stockton. Stockton led Tech with 139 yards on just eight carries, including a 75-yarder for a touchdown in the second quarter.

Still, UTEP wasn't done. Autrey Golden of the Miners returned the ensuing kickoff 52 yards. After a 15-yard facemask penalty was tacked on, UTEP had the ball on the Tech 33-yard line with 2:23 still to play.

Tech responded though, and this time it was the Raiders' defense that answered the bell, limiting UTEP to 4 yards on four plays and forcing the Miners to turn the ball over on downs. UTEP's final play, a fourth-and-6 from the Tech 29-yard line, fell incomplete.

From there, Tech kneeled out the final 1:23 to wrap up the victory.

UTEP came out strong, holding Tech to a three-and-out on the game's opening possession and then marching 72 yards in 11 plays to take a 3-0 lead. Mattox converted the field goal from 22 yards out at 9:44.

Tech finally got into gear offensively two series later, but after rolling up three consecutive first-down plays DeAndre Washington fumbled at the end of a 9-yard carry. Jameel Irving recovered for UTEP at the Miner 16-yard line.

LUBBOCK, Texas -Jonathan Williams ran for four touchdowns and Alex Collins added two more to lead Arkansas past Texas Tech, 49-28, on Saturday in a matchup of two former Southwest Conference foes.

Williams finished with 145 yards on 22 carries for the Razorbacks (2-1). He scored on rushes of 6, 13, 12 and 6 yards.

Collins finished with a career-high 212 yards on 27 carries, the longest an 84-yard TD in the fourth quarter to seal the win.

Arkansas quarterback Brandon Allen also added 5-yard touchdown run.

The win gave the Razorbacks back-to-back wins for thef irst time in more than a year.

Texas Tech's Davis Webb completed 27 of 45 passes for 252 yards and three touchdowns. He rushed for one TD and threw two interceptions.

Arkansas finished with 438 rushing yards and limited Texas Tech - which came in averaging 365 yards passing - to 252 yards through the air.

Arkansas held the ball (40:39) for more than twice the time the Red Raiders had it (19:21), grinding out 31 first downs.

The Razorbacks chewed up almost half of the third quarter on its first drive. On third-and-goal from the 5, Allen dropped back to pass and was being chased by two Texas Tech defenders. Looking downfield, Allen forced two defensive backs to stay on a receiver as he ran into the end zone, extending Arkansas' lead to 35-21.

But, true to form, the up-tempo Red Raiders offense struck quickly. Webb threw his final touchdown on a third-and-12 from the Arkansas 39, hitting Jakeem Grant, in stride, over the middle.

At the start of the fourth quarter, Texas Tech got only its second possession of the final half.

Texas Tech struggled against the run last season and Saturday was a repeat of those problems. In the Red Raiders' five-game losing streak to close the 2013 regular season, they gave up an average of 294 yards rushing.

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) - Daxx Garman threw for 370 yards and four touchdowns to help No. 24 Oklahoma State beat Texas Tech 45-35 on Thursday night.

Garman completed 17 of 31 passes and ran for a score in his second start since stepping in for the injured J.W. Walsh.

"I thought he handled himself very well," Oklahoma State coach Mike Gundy said. "It was his first Big 12 game and only his third game at this level. For the most part, he understood exactly what we wanted to do."

Gundy picked at a few things, such as Garman's decision to challenge defenders on runs late in the game.

Marcell Ateman had career highs of six catches and 130 yards, James Washington had three catches for 87 yards and two touchdowns, and Desmond Roland ran for 86 yards and a score for Oklahoma State (3-1, 1-0 Big 12).

Davis Webb passed for 374 yards and four touchdowns for Texas Tech (2-2, 0-1) before leaving the game in the fourth quarter because of a left shoulder injury.

Bradley Marquez had eight catches for 106 yards, Jakeem Grant had a career-high 12 catches for 100 yards and a touchdown, and Reginald Davis caught two touchdown passes.

Oklahoma State has won six straight against the Red Raiders and has averaged 55.5 points in the past four wins. The Red Raiders haven't won in Stillwater since 2001.

Mike Smith took over as Texas Tech's interim defensive coordinator after Matt Wallerstedt resigned from their shared position as co-defensive coordinators. The Red Raiders surrendered 528 yards.

It was a typical shootout in the series. The teams combined for 1,034 yards. They also combined for 287 yards in penalties.

Texas Tech marched down the field on its opening drive, and Webb found Davis down the middle for a 21-yard touchdown strike. Webb was 7 of 9 on the drive.

Oklahoma State tied late in the first quarter when Washington made an in-air adjustment in the end zone to snag a 33-yard pass from Garman.

Webb completed 18 of 26 passes for 175 yards in the first quarter.

Ramon Richards, playing because Ashton Lampkin was injured in the first quarter, intercepted Webb's first pass of the second quarter. Texas Tech's defense held, then Webb found Marquez for an 18-yard touchdown pass that gave the Red Raiders a 14-7 lead.

Jeremy Seaton's leaping 28-yard catch between three defenders set up a 1-yard touchdown run by Roland that tied it with 7 minutes left in the second quarter.

Kevin Peterson intercepted Webb's pass, then Garman quickly took advantage on the next play with a 39-yard touchdown pass to Washington that gave Oklahoma State a 21-14 lead.

Texas Tech gained 340 yards in the first half, yet scored only 14 points.

Garman struck again early in the third quarter with a 47-yard touchdown pass to tight end Blake Jarwin.

Tech hung tough. Justin Stockton caught a 17-yard scoring pass from Webb to make it 28-21, but Garman came right back and hit Tyreek Hill deep for a 50-yard touchdown pass that put the Cowboys up by 14 again. The ball appeared to be overthrown, but Hill, a track sprinter, shifted into another gear and caught it in stride near the goal line.

Later, Seth Jacobs intercepted Tech backup Patrick Mahomes' pass, and Garman kept on a read play to put the Cowboys up by 17.

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) - Jake Waters admitted that he was "gassed" after a 50-yard quarterback-keeper in the first half helped propelled No. 23 Kansas State to a rout of Texas Tech on Saturday night.

Funny word choice considering he never let up on the gas the rest of the night.

Waters wound up throwing for 290 yards and four touchdowns, ran for 105 yards and another score and paced the Wildcats' high-octane offense in a 45-13 victory.

"It seems like we were clicking so well on offense," Waters said. "I want to get like that every game. It's a special feeling when you get like that."

Tyler Lockett had 12 catches for 125 yards and two scores, and Curry Sexton had nine catches for 128 yards and the other two scores, helping the Wildcats (4-1, 2-0) prepare for a showdown in two weeks with fourth-ranked Oklahoma by easily dispatching the Red Raiders.

"Jake was pretty decent about finding the right guys tonight," said Kansas State coach Bill Snyder, who is always reticent to lavish too much praise on anyone.

Playing with a sore shoulder, Davis Webb threw for 247 yards and two touchdowns for Texas Tech (2-3, 0-2). But he also threw a career-high four interceptions - two each to Travis Green and Morgan Burns - and was victimized by numerous drops that ruined promising drives.

"We've got to continue to find a way to protect the football," Texas Tech coach Kliff Kingsbury said. "You never want to turn it over, no matter what the score is."

The drops weren't the only problem for the undisciplined Red Raiders, though.

One week after committing 16 penalties for 158 yards in a loss to Oklahoma State, the Big 12 leaders in yellow flags were penalized nine times for 89 yards. That pushed their total for the season to 55 penalties, among the worst in major college football.

On one drive late in the third quarter, with the Wildcats already leading 31-7, the Red Raiders dropped four passes in a span of five plays. The last of them occurred in the end zone and wiped out a touchdown, and Webb threw his third pick of the game on the ensuing play.

"We simply got out-played," Texas Tech linebacker Pete Robertson said. "We couldn't stop them and it was going back-and-forth and our offense was stuck in some bad positions. We should have stopped Kansas State on third downs and fourth downs, but we let them slip away."

Texas Tech actually had a chance to strike first, marching right down the field on the game's first possession. But on second-and-5 at the 7, Webb's pass was picked off in the end zone by Burns, who made a nifty one-handed grab to scuttle the drive.

Everything went Kansas State's way the rest of the night.

Waters hit Sexton with a 48-yard touchdown strike a few minutes later as the Kansas State offense started humming. By the time the senior quarterback hit Lockett with a 15-yard scoring strike with 21 seconds left in the first half, the lead had ballooned to 24-7.

Lockett's second TD catch came late in the third quarter, giving him 21 for his career and moving him into third place on the school's list. He also broke a tie with Jordy Nelson and Quincy Morgan and set the school mark with his 11th 100-yard receiving game.

Texas Tech kept battling into the fourth quarter, closing to within 31-13 on Webb's TD pass to Jakeem Grant. But Waters and Sexton answered with their second touchdown completion - a spectacular catch that is certain to end up on many highlight reels - and DeMarcus Robinson added a short scoring run to put the game firmly out of reach.

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - Sophomore Josh Lambert kicked a career-long 55-yard field goal as time expired to lead West Virginia to a 37-34 win over Texas Tech on Saturday.

The Mountaineers (4-2, 2-1 Big 12) rallied from 14 points down in the fourth quarter to beat the Red Raiders (2-4, 0-3).

Texas Tech's Justin Stockton ran for a 69-yard touchdown in the fourth quarter before West Virginia quarterback Clint Trickett threw a 26-yard touchdown to Kevin White and Rushel Shell ran for 1-yard score to tie it at 34 with 2:02 left.

Trickett, the conference leader in passing yards per game, was held to a season-low 301 yards. He completed 28 of 44 passes and had two touchdowns.

Davis Webb completed 28 of 46 for 348 yards and three touchdowns for the Red Raiders.

When Lambert came out to try to win the game with 3 seconds left in regulation, he must not have been thinking back to earlier in the fourth quarter when he missed a 47-yard field goal to the right that would have made it 27-23.

White, a 6-3, 210-pound senior who came into the game leading the nation in receiving yards (765) and receiving yards per game (153), had his sixth straight game of 100-plus yards receiving. He finished with 123 yards on 13 catches.

Texas Tech sophomore Devin Lauderdale had a career-high 112 yards receiving and caught two of Webb's touchdown passes. Webb also threw his 11th interception of the season.

The Red Raiders had 12 penalties for 115 yards. Two of those helped the Mountaineers on the drive that tied it at 34-34.

Texas Tech got a field goal off a third-quarter fumble by a scrambling Trickett to go up 27-13. On the second play of West Virginia's ensuing possession, Trickett found Jordan Thompson over the middle for a 56-yard touchdown to whittle the Mountaineers' deficit to 27-20 late in the third quarter.

Texas Tech's offense looked better in the first half than it has all season leading 21-10 at halftime.

For WVU, it was the fewest points in a first half since scoring just seven against Kansas last November.

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - Davis Webb threw for 288 yards and three touchdowns to lead Texas Tech to a 34-21 win over Kansas on Saturday.

Webb threw TD passes of 13, 8 and 6 yards. He also threw his 12th interception of the year, one of two errors the Jayhawks capitalized on with touchdowns.

But it wasn't enough for Kansas, which has won just one conference game in its last 34 outings.

Red Raiders (3-4, 1-3 Big 12) freshman Justin Stockton scored on a 21-yard run to put the game out of reach.

Michael Cummings completed 20 of 32 passes for 235 yards, two touchdowns and one interception for the Jayhawks (2-5, 0-4).

The loss for the Jayhawks was their fourth straight conference defeat this year and keeps interim coach Clint Bowen still in search of his first win.

The Red Raiders dominated offensively, getting 507 total yards to the Jayhawks' 363.

Webb, the second-best passer in the Big 12 coming into the game, completed 28 of 44 passes. Running back De'Andre Washington finished with 164 yards on 23 carries.

Ben Heeney, a standout linebacker on Kansas' defense, had a career-high 17 solo tackles. His previous high was 15 last year against Duke.

Texas Tech lost five straight conference games to close its regular season last year. The Red Raiders opened Big 12 play this season with losses to Oklahoma State, Kansas State and West Virginia.

The Jayhawks made it a one-possession game late in the third quarter when Cummings scored from 1 yard out to make it 27-21. The Red Raiders got their first rushing touchdown on their next possession, a 21-yard scamper up the middle by Stockton to put more distance, 34-21, between Texas Tech and Kansas.

Kansas got touchdowns off two mistakes by Webb, one in each half. The second came after Webb fumbled on the Red Raiders' 40. Two plays later Cummings found Jimmay Mundine over the middle to pull within 20-14 with 8:34 remaining in the third quarter.

The Red Raiders answered quickly, with Webb capping a nine-play drive when he hit freshman receiver Ian Sadler on a 6-yard touchdown to go up 27-14.

Texas Tech led 17-7 at halftime off two touchdown passes by Webb. He got his first when he found Reginald Davis on fade route in near corner of the end zone to put the Red Raiders up 10-0. Webb's second TD pass, an 8-yarder to Bradley Marquez, made it 17-0. It was Texas Tech's largest lead of the season and gave Marquez his seventh touchdown for the season, a career high.

On the Red Raiders next possession, Heeney intercepted Webb and returned it 37 yards to the Texas Tech 39. Cummings found Justin McCay for a 16-yard touchdown pass to pull the Jayhawks within 17-7.

The interception extended the Red Raiders streak of losing at least one turnover to 19 games; Webb has 12 now in seven games, compared to the nine in 10 games he had last season.

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - Trevone Boykin took issue with coach Gary Patterson saying he was among the TCU players who weren't ready to play Texas Tech.

The junior quarterback then backed it up with his play.

Boykin threw a school-record seven touchdown passes and the 10th-ranked Horned Frogs showcased a new fast-paced offense by scoring the most points in their history in an 82-27 rout of Texas Tech on Saturday.

It was their first win in three tries against the Red Raiders since joining the Big 12 two years ago. The 82 points are a Big 12 record for a conference game.

The Horned Frogs (6-1, 3-1 Big 12) topped their previous scoring high of 69 in the spread attack directed in part by co-offensive coordinator Sonny Cumbie, a former Texas Tech quarterback who spent the past four seasons as an assistant at his alma mater.

TCU let the overmatched Red Raiders stay close for most of the first half, but that was mostly a defensive problem as the teams combined for 512 yards in the first quarter.

And after Texas Tech starter Davis Webb was knocked out of the game with a left leg injury while Boykin was in the middle of throwing three touchdowns in about a 3-minute span of the third quarter, the Red Raiders (3-5, 1-4) were out of chances to keep up.

Boykin had two scoring tosses each to Josh Doctson and Deante Gray, who had a 92-yarder about 2 minutes before Ty Slanina caught a 57-yard touchdown that gave TCU a 61-20 lead midway through the third quarter.

TCU scored the most points by an FBS school since Oklahoma State beat Savannah State 84-0 on Sept. 1, 2012, and it was the highest total for a ranked opponent against an FBS opponent since No. 6 Wisconsin beat Indiana 83-20 on Nov. 13, 2010.

Boykin was 22 of 39 for 433 yards while setting a career high in yards passing for the second week in a row, this time needing just three quarters before he was replaced by Matt Joeckel.

The touchdown that put TCU over 70 points for the first time was a pitch from third-stringer Zach Allen to Trevorris Johnson for a 4-yard score two plays after Joeckel limped off the field.

Johnson scored again to put the Horned Frogs over 80 with 1:16 remaining a decade after Cumbie led the Red Raiders to a 70-35 victory over the Horned Frogs, the most points allowed in Gary Patterson's 15 seasons as coach.

TCU, which beat New Mexico 69-0 in its previous highest-scoring game in 2011, had a school-record 785 yards in its first win over Tech since a 12-3 victory in 2006.

The Horned Frogs set a series scoring record against an opponent for the fourth straight week, yet another payoff for Patterson after hiring Cumbie, who was on Kingsbury's staff last year, and Doug Meacham in the offseason when he decided that he needed an offense that could keep up in the fast-paced Big 12.

Webb kept pace early by throwing for 230 of his 300 yards in the first quarter before an interception and his two fumbles led to 13 first-half points for TCU. Webb was replaced by freshman Pat Mahomes after the leg injury. Kingsbury didn't have an update on Webb after the game.

Gray led TCU with 165 yards receiving on four catches, and Doctson added 76 with a 51-yard score a week after he missed the school record by a yard on a 225-yard day that included touchdowns of 77 and 84.

Aaron Green had a career-long run of 62 yards for TCU's first touchdown and finished with 105 for his first 100-yard game.

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - Malcolm Brown scored two rushing touchdowns, Johnathan Gray ran for another and Tyrone Swoopes threw for a score to lead Texas over Texas Tech 34-13 on Saturday night.

Brown scored touchdowns of 3 yards and 1 yard, and Gray ran it in from 17 yard for the Longhorns (4-5, 3-3 Big 12), who got their sixth straight win over the Red Raiders.

Swoopes completed 13 of 25 passes for 228 yards, hitting Jaxon Shipley for a 4-yard score.

It was the first 100-yard rushing game for the Longhorns this season.

John Harris finished with a career-high 165 yards receiving. It was his third game this season of 100-plus yards receiving.

The loss assured Texas Tech (3-6, 1-5) a fifth straight losing Big 12 record with three conference games remaining.

Brown moved him into 12th place in school history for career yards rushing.

The win keeps both teams in contention for a bowl but the road is more difficult now for the Red Raiders, who need to win out against Oklahoma in two weeks, Iowa State and Baylor. Texas plays West Virginia, Oklahoma State and TCU.

De'Andre Washington finished with 97 yards on 16 carries for Texas Tech, which scored just one offensive touchdown.

Testaverde came in after Mahomes got hit by Diggs and fumbled. Mahomes got up wobbly and was taken to the locker room, apparently for concussion testing.

Mahomes started his first game in place of Davis Webb, who reinjured his left ankle in last week's loss to TCU.

Testaverde led the Red Raiders on a 75-yard drive, capped by a 6-yard touchdown by Kenny Williams. It was Williams' first rushing touchdown of the season; he was the Red Raiders leading rusher in 2013 and 2012 but switched to linebacker to start this year.

Defensive end Branden Jackson scored a touchdown for Texas Tech in the first quarter after Swoopes fumbled deep in Longhorn territory. It was the first fumble recovery for a touchdown for the Red Raiders since Will Smith in a win over Texas State last season.

Texas Tech is now 1-12 in November games dating back to 2011.

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - Samaje Perine scored three touchdowns, and Cody Thomas threw for one score and ran for another to lead Oklahoma over Texas Tech 42-30 on Saturday. The win kept OU coach Bob Stoops from consecutive losses for the first time since 1999.

Perine scored touchdowns from 2, 64 and 11 yards. It was the true freshman's second 200-yard performance. He finished with 213 yards on 25 carries.

Thomas, who was in for injured starter Trevor Knight, threw a 3-yard pass to Neal Durron. Thomas recovered after halftime following three interceptions in the first half.

Aaron Ripkowski scored on a 1-yard run to seal the win for the Sooners (7-3, 4-3 Big 12).

Texas Tech has given up 11 individual 100-yard rushers this season, including two each against Arkansas, West Virginia, TCU and Oklahoma.

Backup quarterback Patrick Mahomes threw for four touchdowns to lead Texas Tech (3-7, 1-6).

The Sooners scored touchdowns on each of their five second-half drives.

Perine now has 1,001 yards for the season and is the first Sooner since DeMarco Murray in 2010 to get 1,000 yards in a season. It was the first time a freshman has rushed for more than 1,000 yards since Adrian Peterson in 2004. Perine is only the fifth rusher in school history to cross the 1,000-yard mark.

As they have all season, penalties hurt Texas Tech. They finished with 9 penalties for 85 yards, including a touchdown that was called back because of a holding penalty midway through the third quarter.

The teams traded touchdowns after halftime. Mahomes got his third touchdown when he rolled to his left and found Devin Lauderdale along the near sideline for a 75-yard score. The Sooners didn't take long to answer. Perine went around end and outraced Red Raiders defenders for a 64-yard touchdown to pull within 21-14.

It was the first time in 18 games that Texas Tech won the turnover battle. The Red Raiders didn't turn the ball over.

The Red Raiders, who led 14-7 at halftime, failed to get any points off three interceptions from CODY Thomas. They punted on the first, missed a 48-yard field goal and the third ended the half when Keenon Ward was shoved out of bounds as the half ended.

The last time the Sooners had three picks in a half was in 2010 when Landry Jones threw three against Oklahoma State.

Texas Tech scored first when Mahomes found Jakeem Grant for a 6-yard score. It was the Red Raiders' longest drive of the season at 7:05.

The first quarter ended without a score by the Sooners, their fourth straight scoreless quarter.

AMES, Iowa (AP) - Freshman Patrick Mahomes passed for 328 yards and four touchdowns, the last a 44-yard fourth-quarter toss to Kenny Williams that lifted Texas Tech to a 34-31 victory over Iowa State on Saturday.

Iowa State led 31-27 lead on Aaron Wimberly's 3-yard touchdown run early the fourth quarter, but missed a chance to extend the lead when Cole Netten's 42-yard field goal attempt hooked left.

Tech (4-7, 2-6 Big Twelve) then marched 75 yards in seven plays for the game-winner, which came when Mahomes found Williams all alone in the right flat and the 228-pounder rambled untouched to the end zone with 4:07 left to end the Red Raiders' three-game losing streak.

Iowa State (2-7, 0-7) drove into Tech territory after Williams' touchdown but gave up the ball on downs when quarterback Sam Richardson was stopped just short of converting at the Red Raiders' 31.

It was a back-and-forth game and that came as no surprise, given that the league's two worst defenses were on the field.

Tech's DeAndre Washington rushed for a career-high 181 yards in 18 carries and scored on a 72-yard run, the longest of his career. Davis and Devin Lauderdale topped that by hooking up on an 82-yard touchdown, Tech's longest play of the season, to put the Red Raiders up 27-24 late in the third quarter.

Mahomes, who started for the third straight game in place of the injured Davis Webb (ankle), completed 23 of 35 passes with one interception. He also threw TD passes of 26 yards to Washington and 13 yards to Lauderdale.

Williams also had a big play when Tech fooled Iowa State with a fake punt from its own 42 while trailing 24-14 midway through the third quarter.

The snap went to Williams and he ran 44 yards through the surprised defense to the Iowa State 13. On the next play, Mahomes rolled right and found Lauderdale in the back of the end zone for a touchdown and the Red Raiders had the momentum after that.

Richardson went 24 of 38 passes for 304 yards and two TDs, while Wimberly rushed for 102 yards and scored twice. But the defense couldn't hold up and Tech finished with 600 total yards.

Washington ran his season total to 1,038 yards, becoming the first Tech running back to top 1,000 since Ricky Williams ran for 1,582 in 1998.

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Bryce Petty threw for 210 yards and two touchdowns and playoff hopeful Baylor held on for a 48-46 victory over Texas Tech on Saturday.

Shock Linwood ran for 158 yards and two touchdowns for the fifth-ranked Bears (10-1, 7-1 Big 12, No. 7 CFP), who after their usual offensive shootout with Texas Tech are guaranteed at least a share of their second consecutive conference title if they win at home over No. 11 Kansas State next Saturday.

The Bears are also hoping for a much bigger prize, but a close call against the Red Raiders (4-8, 2-7) likely doesn't help in that quest. They were already two spots behind Big 12 co-leader TCU, which is coming off an impressive 48-10 Thanksgiving night romp at Texas.

Patrick Mahomes set a Big 12 freshman record with his 598 yards on 30 of 56 passing that included six touchdowns, the last a 40-yarder to Bradley Marquez with 1:42 left before he was under heavy pressure and sacked on a two-point try. The Red Raiders then tried an onside kick that was recovered by Linwood.

Petty was hurt midway through the third quarter after taking a high hit from linebacker Sam Eguavoen. Petty remained down for several minutes before getting up and walking slowly to the sideline and then going to the locker room.

Baylor officials called it a "mild concussion." Petty was back on the sideline before the end of the third quarter, still wearing his uniform but without his shoulder pads and helmet.

Seth Russell took over for Petty, and six plays later threw a 27-yard touchdown pass to Levi Norwood to make it 42-17.

The teams traded field goals before Texas Tech scored 20 unanswered points, on three long touchdowns passes by Mahomes.

After 1,000-yard rusher DeAndre Washington turned a short pass into a 49-yard TD with 8:13 left, the Red Raiders were within 45-40 after a failed two-point try.

The Red Raiders had three 100-yard receivers for the first time since 2005 - Marquez (six catches, 130 yards, three TDs), Washington (six, 107, one) and Jakeem Grant (five, 155, one). Washington, Tech's first 1,000-yard rusher since 1998, also had 65 yards rushing on 15 carries.

But they had 11 penalties for 125 yards, including two that led to a first-and-30 play before its last touchdown. There were three consecutive fumbles inside Baylor territory in the first quarter.

"I have been happy with the effort since we basically lost out on bowl eligibility," Tech coach Kliff Kingsbury said. "We're just not very disciplined. That's the biggest thing I take away from this whole year, and that's on me."

TEXAS TECH RING OF HONOR

Texas Tech announced the creation of the Football Ring of Honor in June 2012. The Ring of Honor consists of an elite group of players and coaches that made outstanding contributions to Red Raider Football. Inductees have their names permanently etched on the west stadium building facing the playing surface inside Jones AT&T Stadium. Candidates for the Ring of Honor will be chosen and screened by an anonymous selection committee. Once the committee has determined a suitable candidate(s) for induction, the group will make a formal recommendation to the director of athletics.
